Changes in Hookey Rules

Kicking the puck—The constant demands of the public for faster play and fewer stoppages has produced a new change this season in the form of an amendment of the amateur rules to allow kicking the puck by both teams in the centre area.

Formerly the defending team was allowed to kick the puck in its own defensive area only.

The new rule will enable the teams to kick the puck anywhere up to their opponents' defensive blue line. However, this does not permit the attacking team to kick the puck over their opponents' defensive blue line. The puck must be touched by a player's stick before crossing the line.

For the purpose of this rule riding or carrying the puck with a skate is considered kicking.

Offside—This is perhaps the most difficult feature of the rules for the officials standpoint. Some confusion has arisen by reason of conflict within the rules themselves. This is particularly true in two cases:

(a) Skating a team-mate on side after passing the puck across the opponents' defensive blue line.

In this case there has been no

Regular Meeting of the P.-T.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the P.-T.A. was held in the school on Monday evening with a fair attendance present.

After the routine business had been dealt with, Mrs. E. Lewendon gave a paper on "Christmas Carols and their Origin". Dr. E. J. Liesemer then gave an interesting and enlightening address on "Tuberculosis". This was followed by a paper on "Christmas Customs and their origin", given by Mrs. G. F. Kemper. The singing of Christmas Carols by Mrs. Lewendon, Mrs. Leonard, and Miss I. Mackie was much enjoyed. The next meeting of the P. T. A. will be held at the school on January 11th.

Regular Meeting of the U.F.W.A.

The regular meeting of the Arrowwood Local No. 154 of the U. F. W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Culp, on Wednesday, December 16th, in the form of an all day meeting and Christmas party.

Nineteen people sat down to a delicious dinner, each lady having brought a covered dish of cooked food.

Fourteen members answered roll call, "A new years resolution". Mrs. R. McBride gave a report on the whist drive held at Mrs. R. F. Williams' home, which was a real success.

It was decided to hold a sale of cooked food, and after-noon

Ladies' Guild Elect Officers

The Ladies' Guild held their annual election of officers at the home of Mrs. R. H. Bishop on Thursday, Dec. 10th. The following officers were elected to serve for 1932.

President—Mrs. Mackie. Vice Pres.—Mrs. W. Steiner. Sec. Tres.—Mrs. R. Fonger. Advisory Members—Mrs. M. Ward and Mrs. G. F. Kemper. The standing committees to be appointed by the President. Final reports from the Bazaar held in November were most gratifying. A musical contest arranged by Mrs. Steiner proved delightful entertainment. Mrs. Neal McCoolman and Mrs. W. Steiner assisted Mrs. Bishop in serving a delicious seasonal lunch to twenty members.

tea January 9th, in Quan Kay's Cafe.

The Secretary read a letter from Mrs. M. W. MacDonald written while she was in the Calgary hospital. We were glad to learn that she is doing real well and able to go home in a few days.

The next meeting will be held January 6th at the home of Mrs. Leonard with Mrs. DeWitt and Mrs. R. F. Williams assisting.

At the close of the business meeting the program was turned over to the entertainment committee. A very interesting contest took up considerable time. The prize was won by Mrs. R. F. Williams. Gladys Leonard gave two real good readings which were enjoyed by all. Mrs. DeWitt gave a reading and little Marjorie Lewendon recited.

All the ladies joined in singing Christmas Carols at the close of the meeting.

School Notes

The pupils of the primary room are putting on a short program on Monday, Dec. 21st at 1.30 p.m., to raise money for curtains. Mothers and fathers are cordially invited. Fathers who are unable to be there may ask a friend to take their place. Admission 10 cents.

Grades 5 and 6 are practicing for a short program to be held next Friday in the afternoon. Mothers, fathers and visitors will be welcome.

The "after four" classes have started and are being fairly well attended, especially in the High School.

The High School is in the midst of exams. The students are now finding that "Labor omnia vincit," work conquers everything.

Caesar (visiting Cleopatra) Veni! Vidi! Whoopee!

There has been an addition to the musical equipment of the school. Miss Spencer's room appropriated a phonograph. Children in her room march to "Marching Through Georgia" and sing "Them Golden Slippers."

If anyone feels so inclined, they could donate a few records of school songs.

Curling One of the Oldest Games

First Played in Sixteenth Century in Scotland; Credit Goes there for Development

Winnipeg Granite Club, Organized in 1880, First in West; That City Said to be Greatest Curling Centre in the World Today.

Popular Sport in Alberta Started Back in 1888

We are indebted to Mr. J. Mackie, Sr., for the following article by D. C. Bayne, which appeared in the Calgary Herald:

The game of curling dates back at least to the Sixteenth Century, and the history of its beginning is lost in tradition. "If the game be not indigenous to Scotland, it certainly owes development to that country," says one writer. In the beginning play was carried on with whinstone or granite rocks roughly hewn from the quarries, with hole bored to let in the thumb of the player. As time went on more finish and polish were given the stones, and handles took the place of the holes.

A curling stone weighs 39 to 46 pounds with the handle, the average weigh being about 42 pounds. The rink from tee to tee is 114 feet in length and from the hack from which the stone is delivered to the tee, is 12 feet, that is, from hack to hack the length of the rink is 138 feet. The width of the rink is from 16 feet 18 feet, but the diameter of the out circle surrounding the tee is 12 feet. There are four men to a side; the lead, the second, the third, the skip. Each player throws two rocks, the usual game in Canada consists of 12 ends, although as high as 24 ends used to constitute a game. The skip directs the play and as a rule plays the last rock, and the opposing players throw their stones alternately with their opponents. It is an advantage, of course, to have the "last rock."

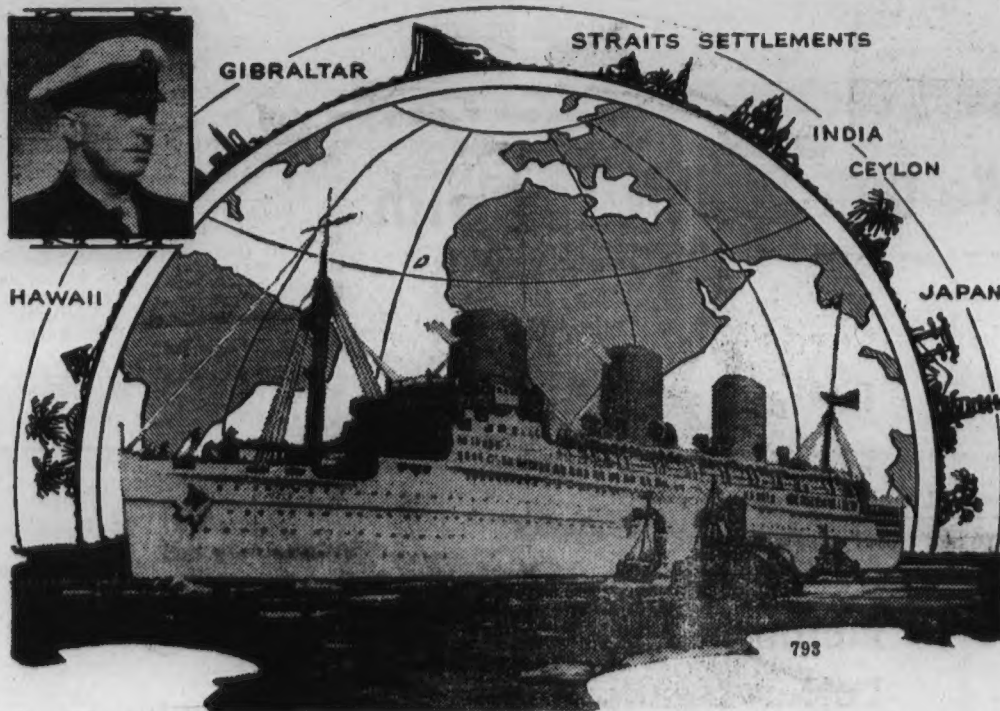

The Royal Caledonian Curling Club of Scotland was organized on November, 1839, and started with 28 allied clubs. By the year 1880 there were 500 clubs connected with the parent club and at present there are over one thousand. During winter of 1902-03, a body of Scottish curlers visited Canada and came as far west as Winnipeg. This visitation has been told in song and story, and Reverend John Kerr who headed the Scottish delegation wrote a book on history of the trip, a

Cruises Around World After First Season

Tired, like any debutante after the hectic gaieties of her first season, the young lady who, immediately after her presentation at the Court of King Neptune last May, became a leader of society, leaves shortly for a leisurely cruise around the world.

The young lady in question, the 42,500 ton Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain" has just concluded her first Atlantic season during which her parties, amongst the most brilliant ever held on the Western Ocean, have been attended by more representatives of rank and fashion than Ward McAllister dreamed of.

Princes, Ambassadors, Earls, Viscounts, Barons, Knights of many of the highest orders of chivalry and their ladies have vied for their favour; and the highest aristocracy of North America, the noble Iroquois Indians, paid their homage when they conferred Chieftainship upon Captain R. G. Latta (inset) commander of the Empress of Britain, and Commodore of the Canadian Pacific fleet.

Regaining the Blue Ribband of the Atlantic for the British Empire on her second voyage by making the crossing to Father Point, Quebec, in four days 12 hours, 30 minutes, thus breaking the previous continent to continent record by four hours and 36 minutes, the Empress of Britain did not rest on her laurels, and since that date has broken her own record on five other occasions. On her final voyage of the season she crossed in seven hours and 49 minutes less than the best record between Cherbourg and New York.

Starting December 3rd, from New York, the Empress will visit 30 ports before, after a complete circle of the world, she returns to the Atlantic. Her guests will bring back with them when they reach New York again, April 8th, 1932, fragrant memories of Madeira, Gibraltar, Algeria, Monaco, France, Italy, Greece, Palestine, Egypt, India, Ceylon, Sumatra, Java, Straits Settlements, Federated Malay States, Siam, the Philippines, China, Japan, Hawaii, Panama and Cuba.

She will be the largest and fastest vessel ever to cruise around the world.

A Great Enterprise

The difference between the pyramids of Egypt and a Red Cross hospital is neither the age nor the size. The first was the work of individual men accomplished by forced labor but the other is erected from the voluntary givings of a group of citizens. So a noted English writer claims that Great Britain's monuments are those buildings erected from public subscriptions.

And there are edifices not built of wood and stone. They are created out of human flesh and blood—And the British and Foreign Society is one of them. There are no financial profits. Its sole aim is to get the Scripture to every man in "his mother tongue"

And it has been wonderfully successful. Its 644 different translations is only a part of the accomplishment for from its altar has been taken the fires that kindled such other societies as the American and Scottish organizations.

Truly she has been the handmaid of the church and the noble work of foreign missions could never be carried on without her aid. And her colporteurs have penetrated areas both in Canada and in the dark corners of the earth before the missionary ever reached there.

It would take much time and space to attempt to measure the value of this work. Even among the highly cultured people of our own country it has placed the greatest of our English classics. But its religious service is greatest. For the people of Alberta alone she supplies the Scriptures of 49 different languages and our churches are using no less than 111 different translations for our church work within the bounds of the Dominion.

The Refiner's Fire

He sat by a furnace of seven-fold heat,
As he watched by the precious ore,
And closer he bent with a searching gaze
As he heated it more and more.

He knew He had ore that could stand the test
And He wanted the finest gold,
To mold as a crown for the King to wear,
Set with gems of price untold.

So He laid our gold in the burning fire,
Tho' we fain would say Him, "Nay";
And watched the dross that we had not seen,
As it melted and passed

OF THE
Canadian Medical Association

Edited by

GRANT FLEMING, M.D. — ASSOCIATE SECRETARY

The habits of life are important because upon them depend so much of the happiness and success of life. Unless the child learns early in life how to live happily with other people and get along well with them, he will, when he grows up, meet with difficulties on account of his inability to mix with other people in his business and social life.

If we are to achieve success in work and, at the same time enjoy our daily task, more than anything else we need to form good habits. Such habits, in adult life are the result of the building up, in childhood, of habits in promptness and in finding pleasure in work well done.

Children acquire habits very readily, regardless of whether the habits are good or bad. The baby soon demands that mother continue to sit with him while he goes to sleep, if she has once started to do so. It used to be thought that a baby should be rocked to sleep because, after he had been rocked for a few times, he cried when he was not put to sleep in this way. We know now that it is far better for the baby to be placed in his bed and be left quiet and alone for his sleep.

There is one habit which is both undesirable and dangerous, and yet it persists. We refer to the habit of the comfort or pacifier.

It is not natural for a child to have something in his mouth all the time. The fact that he cries for it does not show that the comfort is good for him. He does so simply because he has been given the habit.

Not only is the comfort not necessary, but it is actually harmful. True the baby stops crying when he gets it, but he stops because he got what he wants, and not because the comfort soothes him. As a matter of fact, the continued sucking irritate him. Ask a smoker why he does not suck a dry pipe; he will sell you that doing so causes an uncomfortable feeling, and so he does not do so.

Continued use of the comfort alters the arch of the mouth. Baby's bones are soft and yielding, and so they become permanently misshaped as the result of the pressure due to the continued sucking. The condition of projecting teeth with a short, tight upper lip, is another deformity caused by the comfort.

In addition, comforts cannot be kept clean. They are sure to become soiled, and very apt to become contaminated with germs which are carried into the baby's mouth with the comfort.

There is one place a comfort should never be, and that is in the baby's mouth.

Best Time to Advertise is When Business is Needed

"My son", ran an editorial in the Bridgeport (Conn.) Post—an editorial that should be reprinted by hundreds of newspaper, for the benefit of themselves and their local merchants—"there's nothing on earth so mysteriously funny as an advertisement. The prime, first, last and all the time object of an advertisement is to draw custom. It is not, was not, and never will be designed for any other human purpose. So the merchant waits till the busy season, comes and his store is so full of custom that he can't get his hat off, and then he rushes to his printer and goes in for advertising.

"When the dull season gets along and there is no trade and he wants to sell goods so bad he can't pay his rent, he stops his advertising. That is, some of them do, but occasionally a level headed merchant does more of it and scoops in all the business, while his neighbors are making mortgages to pay the gas bill.

"There are times when you couldn't stop people from buying everything in the store if you planted a cannon behind the door, and that's the time the advertisement is sent out on its mission. It makes light work for the advertising, for a chalk sign on the sidewalk could do all that was needed and have a half holiday six days in the week; but who wants to favor an advertisement? They are built to do hard work, and should be sent out in the dull days when a customer has to be knocked down with facts and kicked insensible with bankruptcy reduction and dragged in with irresistible slaughter of price before he will spend a cent.

"That's the aim and end of advertising, my son, and if you ever open a store don't try to get them to come when they are already sticking out of the windows, but give them your advertisement right between the eyes in the dull season and you will wax rich and own a fast hose and perhaps be able to smoke a cigar once or twice a year.

"Write this down where you'll fall over it every day. The time to draw business is when you want business, and not when you have more business than you can attend to already."

Britishers are eating Canadian eggs this year with their breakfast bacon. Estimates for 1931 place a figure of 26,000 cases, each of 30 dozen eggs, for export to Great Britain. Last year it was only 6,500 cases.

The fur trade is still one of Canada's big assets. In 1927 furs to the value of 550,000 francs were exported to France. Last year their value was placed at $17,187,399, mostly to Great Britain and the United States.

Grain traffic handled by the Canadian Pacific for October last shows a considerable increase over that carried for October, 1930. A total of 17,921 cars was loaded last month from the Prairie Provinces as compared with a total of 13,573 cars in October, 1930.

Everyone makes mistakes, but mistakes may be made the basis of success. They often point the way not to act, the material not to use, the method not to employ. There would be little progress were no mistakes made. The chief harm from mistakes is from covering them up or trying to cover them up, and in failure to profit by them.—The Vent.

change in the rules themselves, but they have now been interpreted to mean that the player carrying the puck or the player who last touched it must be the first person to cross the opponents' blue line—otherwise it is an offside and the puck must be faced off on the blue line.

The new interpretation of this rule is that the person making the pass backwards puts himself offside and thereby creates an offside play unless he has crossed his opponents' goal line before making the pass backward.

Scoring a goal off the body of a team-mate—Formerly there was some doubt about whether a goal could be scored in this fashion or not. It has now been definitely determined that a goal cannot be scored off any part of an attacking player's body or equipment except his stick.

Among the mysteries of psychology, according to Uncle Ezra, is why it is spelled with a "p"

And the gold grew brighter and yet more bright, But our eyes were dim with tears

We saw but the fire—not the Master's hand, And questioned with anxious fears.

Yet our gold shone out with a richer glow

As it mirrored a Form above, That bent o'er the fire, tho' unseen by us, With a look of ineffable love.

Can we think it pleases His loving heart

To cause us a moment's pain? Ah, no! but He sees thro' the present cross

The bliss of eternal gain.

So He waited there with a love that is strong and sure, And His gold not suffer a bit more heat.

Co-operation between Canada's two great railway companies registered an important advance recently when it was officially announced that an agreement had been reached whereby the Canadian National will co-operate with the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian Pacific Steamships in the solicitation of freight, passenger and express traffic for Canadian Pacific ships to and from Canadian Atlantic ports. ### CURLING IS ONE OF THE OLDEST GAMES copy of which is still in the hands of many Canadian curlers. While Scotland is the home of the game and while the Royal Caledonian Curling Club of Scotland is the parent organization, the greatest curling centre in the world today is the city of Winnipeg.

The Winnipeg Granite Club was organized in 1880 and affiliated with the R.C.C.C. of Scotland in 1880. The Winnipeg bonspiel of the early days was a very important gathering not only from the standpoint of the sport of the game but from the social standpoint as well. Perhaps it has never been fully realized that the community at large owes to the game of curling. Men from all wakes of life and from all parts of the country meet in keen rivalry and in social intercourse. The game has been described as a united brotherhood within which peer and peasant are equal on the ice. This is a fairly good description and perhaps no game ever played is as truly democratic. The writer remembers a judge of the supreme court of one of our provinces being very severely taken to task for a particularly poor shot, while a leading Presbyterian divine on the same rink worked manfully and was told by his skip who was one of his congregation that he was not taking the ice at all carefully. But this is what a curler must expect if he places himself under a skip, and be judge, minister or laborer, superficial distinctions are all forgotten in the lure of the game. To be ordered to sweep hard, to be shouted at to stop sweeping, to receive all kinds of violent direction, is all part of the game and proper team work demands explicit obedience to the skip's orders.

A writer in 1902 thus describes the gathering of curlers for the Winnipeg bonspiel of that day:

"There is a strange stir in the streets of Winnipeg today. Everywhere you meet burly men in fur coats and rough homespun, with Tam o' Shanters on their heads and brooms in their hands. You begin to wonder if Manitoba with a young country's loves of expertiment, is trying some new form of co-operative street cleaning. But any passerby will tell you that these men are curlers, and that the great event of the year, the Winnipeg bonspiel, is begin held this week.

"It is a day in mid-winter. The air is crisp and keen with a snappy frost. The streets are covered with a sprinkling of powdery snow; and light sleighs drawn by lean, swift-trotting ponies dash to and fro, with constant jingling of bells. To the north the Red River, sealed with five feet of ice; and beyond that the frozen lake and the frozen seas. All round the prairie is white with snow. Tonight the thermometer may touch thirty degrees below zero; but now the sky is bright with mid-summer blue. Winter comes to us smiling but with a grip of steel; no fogs, or mist, on muddy street, but bright, clear days, hard and glad; five months' frost with scarce a thaw; in fact a curler's paradise. For Winnipeg is the Mecca of all true curlers on the continent.

Curling in Alberta began in eighties of the last century and the Calgary club was organized in the year 1888. The following year it was affiliated with the Manitoba branch of the R.C.C.C.

In the early days the "draw" game prevailed but during the years 1905-06-07 the style of game changed considerably and what is known as the "chap and lie" method was more and more introduced. Of course the draw still remained as part of the game but the "chap and lie" as played in Winnipeg found favor here and the game as played today is somewhat different from the game as played in Scotland owing chiefly to the keener ice in Western Canada.

The Calgary bonspiel of twenty or twenty-five years ago was a more distinctive gathering than it is today. The city was not so large. A larger percentage of the citizens was more directly interested in the game. The coming of visitors attracted more attention. Yet today the game plays a prominent part in the community and is again growing in popularity after the Great War.

The grand old man of curling in Manitoba was the veteran J. P. Robinson, who was for many years secretary of the Manitoba branch and who passed on a few years ago. Before the Saskatchewan and Alberta branches were formed he was the "guide, philosopher and friend" to numerous curling rinks throughout the west. A man held in the highest esteem in his own community and beloved of the curling fraternity at large, his memory will always be an inspiration to true sportsmanship. When the Alberta branch was formed we had a secretary of our own and the man who took J. P. Robinson's place in Alberta more than any other was S. J. Blair, who for years guided the destinies of curling in this province with patience and sympathy as well as with marked efficiency. The game in this part of Alberta owes a great deal to Sam Blair.

Western Canada is particularly well suited to curling on account of its bright, steady winters and its keen ice. It is a game that deserves well of every community: the young, the middle-aged and the old may play it with equal pleasure, and it is one of the few games that cannot be commercialized. It leads to better sportsmanship, better fellowship and better citizenship, and has a lure peculiar to itself which can only be understood and appreciated by those who have played the game.

Good Advice

"Go back and advertise," was the advice which James Ross of the M. T. Garvin Company, Lancaster Pa., gave to a fellow merchant who complained of the condition of business, and said he was reducing his staff and had eliminated his advertising to save expenses.

"There is nothing so good for a business that is dying as newspaper space," said Mr. Ross in an address at the convention of the Pennsylvania Dry Goods Company.

"I told my friend to stop retrenching, to spend more money. Go right back and take a page ad, and go after business, I said. I met him a few days later, and he told he had thought over my suggestion and had instructed his son to draw up a full page add.
